

SOUL LIGHT - Three

LOVE IS THE ONLY ANSWER

Since the beginning of civilisations, societies of every ilk across the globe have tried to find order and harmony within which they could prosper and develop.

They have tried coercion, manipulation, money, repression, violence, slavery, gender degradation, racial vilification, sexual depravity, segregation, bigotry, apartheid, war, tribal and creedal holocausts, guns, defoliants, chemical warfare, drugs, lies, class discrimination, economic power, industrial power, secret societies and religion – to name just a few.

Many times many of these processes have been used together.
Alone or in union, all have failed.

None have even offered a momentary glimmer of hope.
Wars to end wars have always led to further wars.
Controls to end controls have always led to further controls.

When will we wake up?

How ignorant can the human race be?

How long will it remain so?

I stand for peace; I speak only love.

A recent video had a soldier ask the question: Did I do something wrong?

My answer is “you are acting absolutely irresponsibly and inappropriately”.

This video had the soldier claim “I’m doing my job for you”.
My answer to that is which ‘you’ do you mean? My infinite spirit? My boundless soul?

How are you helping these aspects of myself?
Or do you mean the maintenance of my standards, our businesses and our way of living no matter how many babies, mothers, fathers, grandparents, neighbours, friends, boyfriends, girlfriends, best friends, pals, partners and workmates and other innocent people “on the other side” have to die to ensure the current status quo?

Most conflicts have nothing at all to do with saving the lives of people – but are rather about gaining economic and political advantage.

Is that ever a moral or legitimate reason to kill people?
Tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands of people?

No.

Each and every soldier needs our love, absolutely.
On both sides of every conflict.

But everyone of us should be focused on the end of soldiery –
the only way you truly destroy an enemy is TO MAKE A FRIEND.

That should be our spiritual focus.

To be friends with the entire world.

The endless, ceaseless wars across the planet – many of them fought by people who claim to follow some aspect of the Divine – are an abuse of the beauty and richness of a human being.

People get pastors to bless weapons before they're fired into other people's cities and bodies – how crazy, how heartless is that?

How would we like to be on the end of one of those attacks?

If the leader of the aggressors said they were doing it for the maintenance of peace (as they have said since time immemorial) would that make it OK for you?

I believe we must come together as one, we must share love as one.

All soldiers of all nations should be encouraged to HUG one another.

Politicians who want to send people to war should go themselves.

Soldiery should be reserved for the maintenance of peace – and that alone.

Soldiery should never be the willful instigator of death.

All aggressors should withdraw from the lands of other people, regardless of how much wealth or other potential gain those lands offer.

There's no excuse for acts of aggression, no matter what glossy terms are used to sanitise such behaviour.

Contrary to the lies of the ignorant warmongers, love is not a cop-out.

It's not for the faint-hearted.

Any person who think they're a victim can hate.

Any non-thinking person can pick up a gun and shoot someone.

It takes courage, strength, spiritual understanding, deep compassion and a rich appreciation of the true wealth of the human spirit to truly love.

But ultimately, it's the only truly worthwhile act of life – to love.

Let us love one another.

Let us move from all these totally failed inhuman and ignorant practices of the past.

Let us claim our birthright.

Let us claim a shining future for our children and the generations to come.

Let us BE the LOVE we ARE!

I AM LOVE

AND LOVE IS ALL I NEED TO GIVE

TO ALL I MEET

AND ALL I DO

Love and Blessings,

Les
